Parents Get Answers

by Mary Lou Bercheni

On January 17, School Superintendent John Allison met with parents about the question of overcrowded conditions at the 5th grade level, a question which were raised at the November 1988 school board meeting.

According to Allison, all questions presented that night to the board by parents have been addressed by himself and staff, including Joe Gaetino, assistant superintendent; Larry Rhone, Dillsburg principal; John Falatovich, special services; and 5th grade teachers.

Questions raised included class size, (there are 5 classrooms of 5th graders at Dillsburg Elementary with some teachers having 32 students in a class and up to 156 students daily); departmentalization (all 5th grades at Dillsburg change classes for different subjects and different teachers, seeing 3 or 4 teachers daily and 8 within one week time); discipline problems ("fighting", such as name calling and pushing or shoving between Dillsburg and former Northern Elementary students in the halls, restrooms, or on the playground); student attitudes towards learning and each other, and class participation.

Since that November board meeting, "Much time and effort has been put forth by all involved to deal with these questions," said Allison. "Their overall view is to keep things as they are now for the 1988-89 school year."

It is the Administration and teachers' feeling that it would be worse to add a new teacher and change students at this point compared to a classroom of 30 or more students as is.

"Any teacher would prefer a classroom under 20 students," said Allison, "but a good teacher can handle a class size much higher. A smaller class size does not make for better education," he added. The Northern District tries to keep class size in the 25 student range, according to Allison.

Rhone and his 5th grade teachers find no problems with 5th grade students changing classes. This departmentalization is a good introduction to 6th grade at Middle school where every student requires a change.

Addressing discipline problems on the playground, Rhone said, "Through personal experience and information from teachers and aides there have been fewer problems this year. Teachers have seen the same type of friction between students typical of their age yearly."

According to Allison, three 5th grade teachers do not give a grade for class participation while two others say 5% of the grade counts towards participation. Based on teacher comments participation has been greater this year than in the past and grades are good.

Falatovich addressed the question of student attitude. He and his staff see no problems. Interactions seem normal at that grade level. Most problems are resolved at the time with staff professionals. "If a parent sees a problem," said Falatovich, "Then he or the elementary counselor should be contacted, and the concern will definitely be checked into."

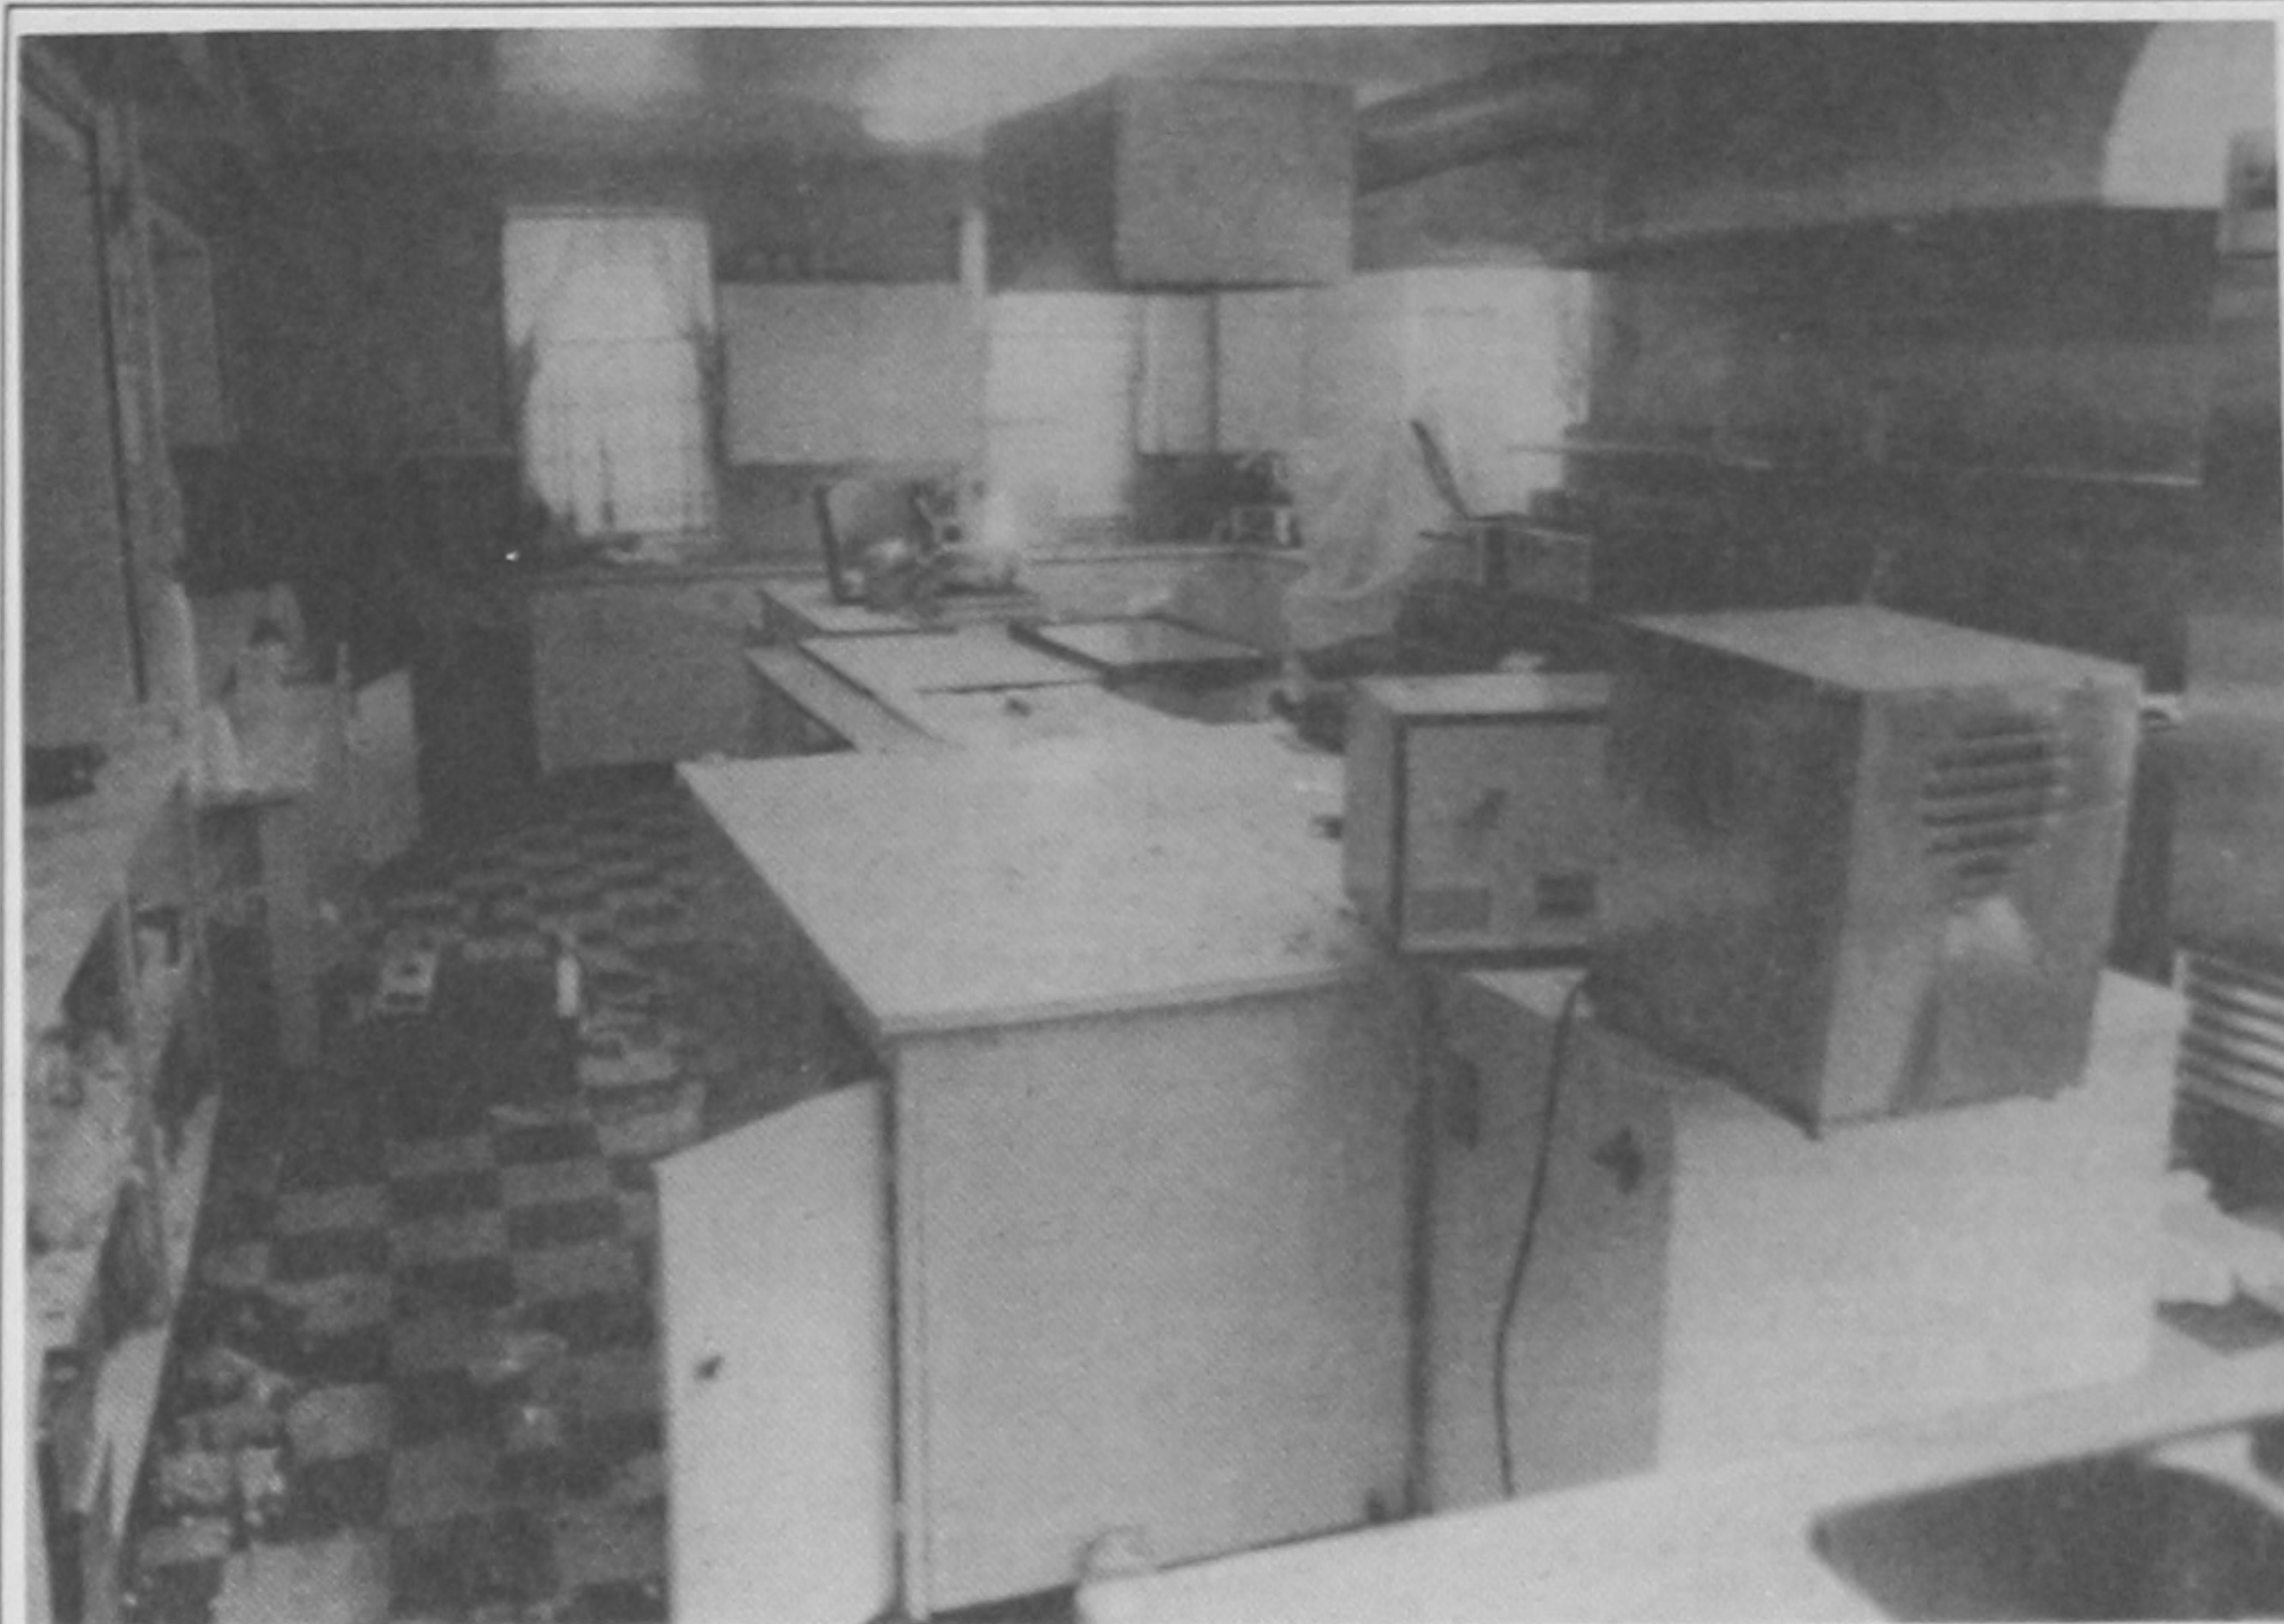

Allison was sorry communications broke down between parents and the school on this matter. Hopefully, future concerns will go through the channels of teacher, counselor, building principal, and administration, which would then make a presentation to the Board of Education.

The three parents attending the meeting appeared receptive to Allison's report. He assured them that each situation would be looked into for the 1989-90 school year as has always been done by the District.

VANDALISM

Carroll Township police said vandals on all terrain vehicles (ATV's) tore down a stone wall, broke lawn ornaments, knocked down flower pots, then forced a storm door at a cabin belonging to Eugene Kimmel on Cold Spring Road, Carroll Township.

Anyone having information is asked to call police at 911.

A $500 Reward is being offered for the arrest and conviction of the vandals responsible for the $15,000 worth of damage done to the Franklinton Fire Hall last weekend. The picture above shows the damage done in the kitchen area.

Chestnut Street man beaten and robbed

A 45-year-old Borough man was beaten into unconscious last Sunday morning by two men who robbed him.

The victim told police he heard someone knocking on the door of his Chestnut Street apartment around 2:00 a.m.

According to police, when he opened the door, two black males forced their way in, punching the victim in the face and then beating him unconscious. Police said the assailants took a 19" television, a stereo, a VCR, $400 in cash and the victim's wallet.

Police are looking for a 70's grey Olds or Pontiac that was seen in the area at the time of the robbery.

Fugitive apprehended

A Suitland, Maryland man, wanted by Prince Georges County police for grand theft was taken into custody last week by Dillsburg police. James Ellsworth, 35, was southbound on Route 15 when he ran through Officer Carlos Trump's VASCAR at 78 m.p.h. Trump stopped Ellsworth's vehicle just inside the Adams County line, detected alcohol and made a driving under the influence arrest.

The fugitive warrant, Ellsworth, was arraigned before a duty magistrate in York and jailed in lieu of $30,000 bail.

Harrisburg Bicyclist injured

Martha Coiley of Harrisburg was thrown from her bicycle last Sunday, while riding with friends on Spring Lane Road.

Coiley told police she was trying to clean dirt from her front fork while traveling west on Spring Lane and caught her hand in the spokes.

The bicycle went out of control and Coiley was thrown, landing on her head. She was taken to Seidle Hospital by Dillsburg ambulance.

School Districts Recognized

by Mary Lou Bercheni

Mr. John Allison, Northern York County Superintendent of Schools, presented certificates of recognition to school board members at the Board of Education meeting on January 12, 1989. January is "School Director Recognition Month," and the Northern District Administration, Teachers, Staff, and Students wish to acknowledge and thank school board members for their service to the community.

Reports

Dr. Joseph Gaetino, assistant superintendent, reported the District received a drug-free school grant in the amount of $7232. With the grant money, two drug education program kits will be purchased for grades 2 and 3. The program kit includes instructions for teachers and coordinates with other Drug Education curricula now being used in the Elementary system.

Mr. Marshall Dean, supervisor of building and grounds, reported projects at the high school include new seats installed in the auditorium and students being assigned new parking places. He also stated the District is prepared to handle snow removal this time of year.

Mr. Richard Dietrich, High School principal, reported 10% of the high school band have been recognized at District level. This is quite an achievement, and instructors in that area of education were commended. Dietrich also congratulated the tenth graders who had their Christmas stories published in the Patriot-News. Only 30 stories were printed and 7 were written by Northern students. He also stated this year there will be a high school play under the direction of teacher Judy Kistler.

Mr. John Falatovich, supervisor of special services, reported elementary teacher Linda Gemberling has joined the special services staff at the middle school. He stated Teenline programs out of Holy Spirit Hospital will continue throughout the district in 1989. Falatovich also handed out a written report on first semester Psychological services and elementary parents pamphlets to Board members.

Mr. Arnold Martz, principal Wellsville Elementary, reported an in-service day was given to all teachers at Wellsville on the new WICAT math program. Students in grade 1 through 5 will have math 2 days a week at the center. Martz also recognized teacher Barb Graham on her work with Chapter I Reading students.

Vandals Damage Fire Hall

$500 Reward Offered

By Mary Lou Bytof

The Franklinton Fire Company is offering a $500 reward for the arrest and conviction of the people responsible for approximately $15,000 damage to the fire hall last weekend.

According to Bob McDermott, the fire company president, the vandalism occurred sometime early Saturday morning. It was discovered around 8:30 a.m. Saturday by Charlie Anderson, who entered the hall to clean the chimney.

McDermott said the vandals entered the hall through unlocked doors leading to the fire trucks.

The most extensive damage, according to McDermott, was done in the kitchen. A new cash register, new coffeemaker, and dishes were destroyed. Meat from the freezer and empty beer cans supplied by the intruders were strewn on the floor.

Fire extinguishers were set off in the hall. McDermott said the company is having the chairs cleaned professionally to remove the dry chemicals.

McDermott said he hopes the hall will be cleaned by this weekend. The hall is reserved for Saturday, he added.

Lady Polar Bears Roll On

by John Middlekauff

Intensity is defined as "developing to a high degree," and is a word that has been and will be used by modern-day coaches to describe their team. While the word fits to a "T" the game Northern girls played against Camp Hill, it was a little elusive in the contest against Susquehanna. The game against the Lady Blackhaws was a makeup for an earlier snowed out contest! At any rate, the Lady Polar Bears lit up Susquehanna 60 to 28.

Northern got off the mark early, as they rolled up a 13 to 4 margin by the end of quarter number one. The Lady Bears were to outscore their opponent in every quarter on their way to victory number eight, five in Division III. With this win, Northern tied Shippensburg for second place in that division, one game behind West Perry and with one game to go in the first half.

The Lady Bears enjoyed a very balanced attack offensively, as they actually had four players hit for double figures. Leading the way for Northern was Becky Minnich with 18 points. The diminutive "pepper-pot" guard hit seven field goals and added four free throws on her way to a season and career high. Aiding Becky in the point production were Cindy Trapp with 12, Amy Skinner with 10, and off the bench Nancy Jacoby also with 10.

Susquehanna 4 10 10-28
Northern 13 26 12-60
Skinner 5-0-10; Mayhew 3-0-6;
Trapp 4-4-12; B. Minnich 7-4-18; Jacoby 5-0-10; Klaus 2-0-4. Totals: 26-8-60.

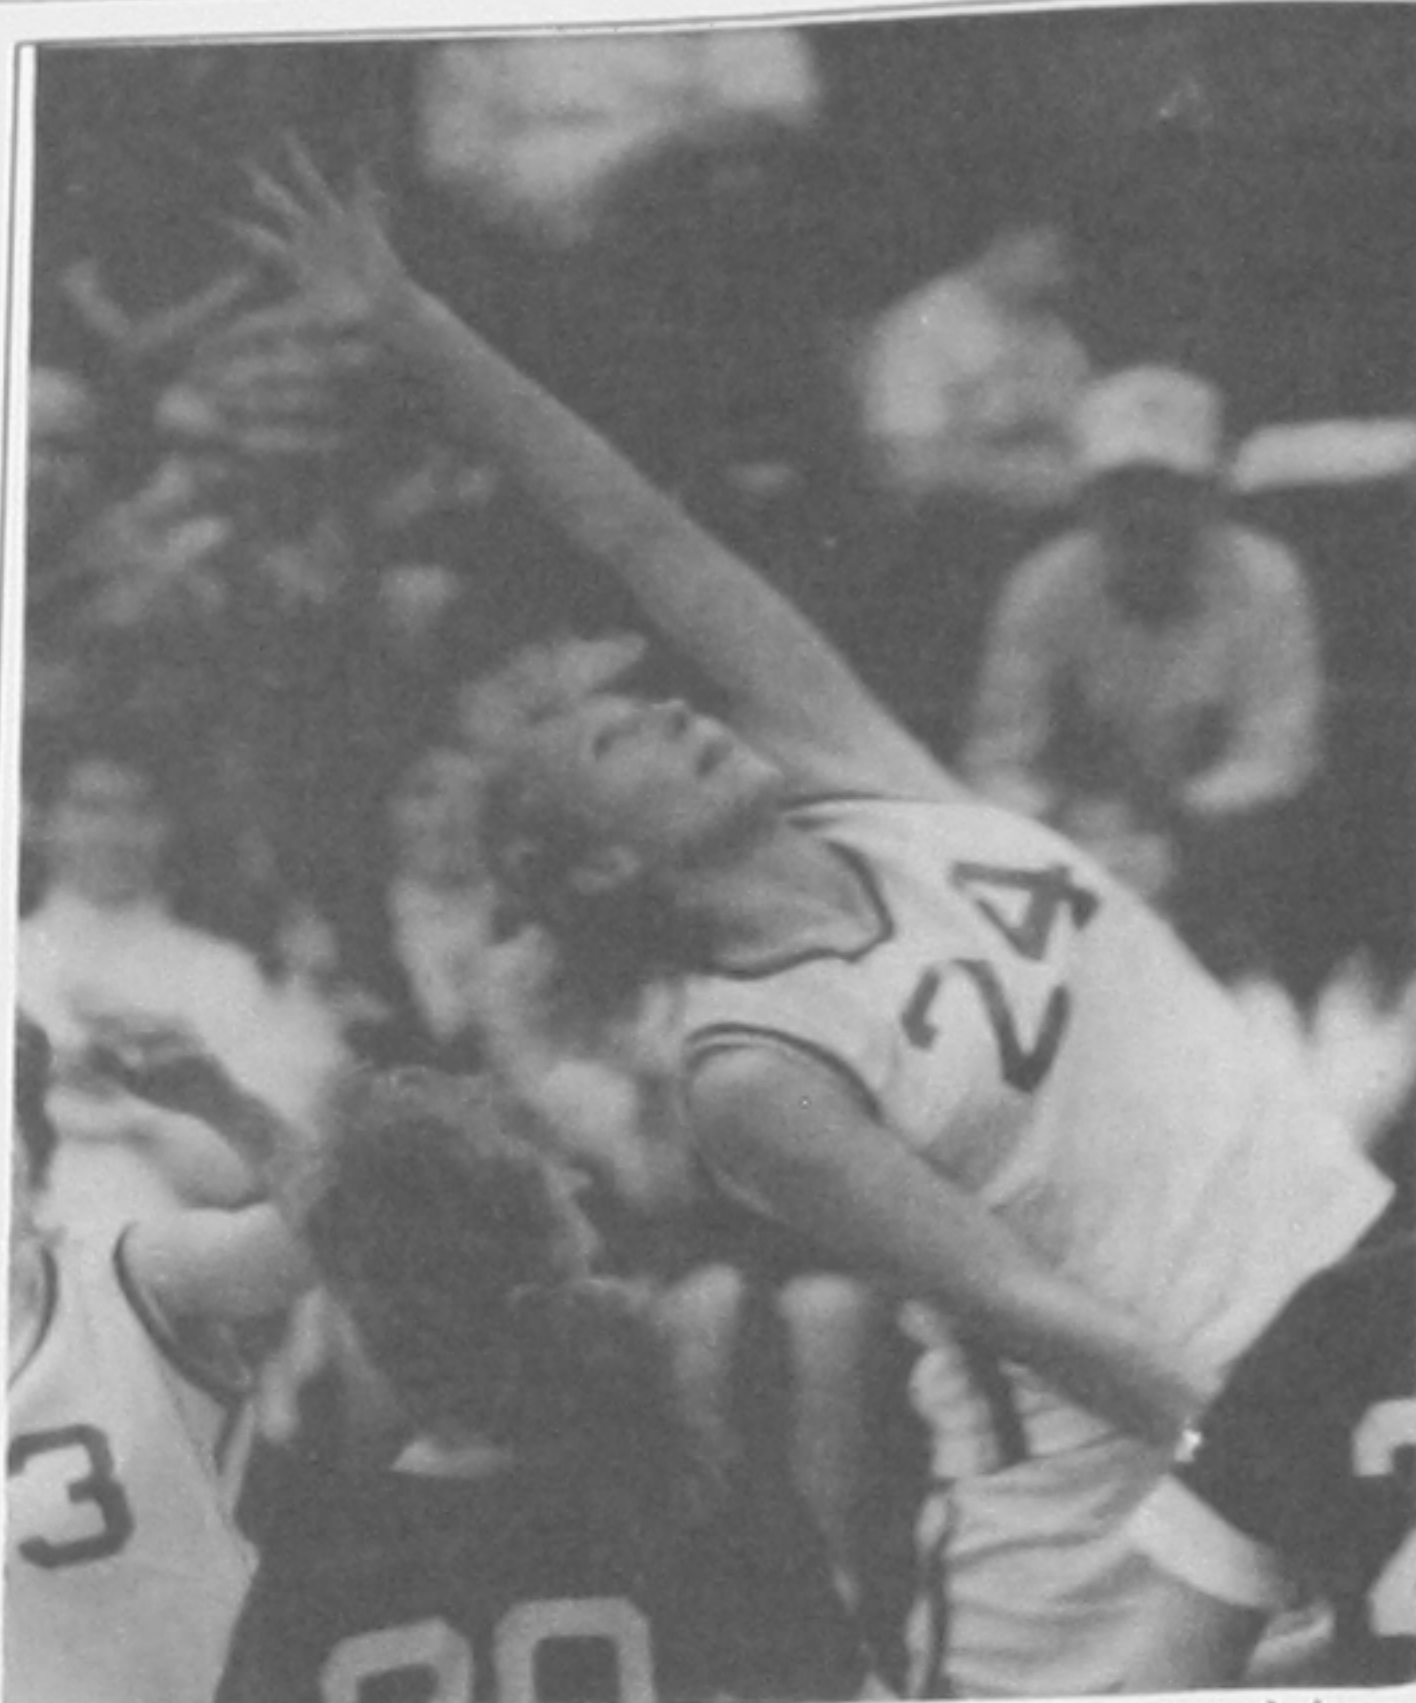

NHS Girls Subdue Camp Hill

by John Middlekauff

Many times, in sports reporting, the same catch-phrases get used so often that one has to wonder as to the sincerity of the report itself. Well this reporter will plead guilty, and gladly, because in the Northern-Camp Hill Girls Basketball game, the concept of "Total team effort and victory" was clearly demonstrated by the Lady Bears as they belted Camp Hill 54 to 36.

Gaining confidence with every game, the Northern girls did everything that they needed to do in posting their seventh victory of the season. Camp Hill, a long and sometimes frustrating opponent, just could not get its game untracked against a very lively and tenacious Northern defense. Offensively, Northern ran it to perfection and the results showed.

This was truly a team victory! Amy Skinner and Gretchen Klaus were absolutely dominating on the backboards. Cyndee Trapp, Amy and Becky Minnich not only contributed point-wise, but all three played excellent defense and helped bottle up the Camp Hill offense. Michelle Mayhew was an absolute terror! She teamed up with Skinner and Klaus to control both backboards, she played inspired defense and she led the team in scoring with 13 points. About the only thing she didn't do was take tickets at the door. She couldn't because they didn't sell them. While the above six did their job and more, this game really belongs to Nancy Jacoby!

The seventh player in Coach Speck's scheme, Nancy is usually called on to spell either Amy Skinner, Gretch, or Michelle. Against the Lady Lions, Miss Jacoby did some kind of job! She contributed with 12 points as well as her excellent work on the boards and the team defense. With Kelly Gordon probably out for the rest of the year, Nancy's contributions on the Lady Bears behalf will no doubt become more noticeable.

Northern will take a brief pause in Girls Division III action, but will return with a home contest against a powerful Trinitiy team on Monday (1-23) before travelling to Shippensburg on Tuesday to close out the first half in Division play.
Northern 10 15 16 13-54
Camp Hill 5 8 11 12-36
Skinner 2-2-6; Mayhew 6-1-13;
Trapp 2-2-6; A. Minnich 2-2-6;
B. Minnich 1-0-2; Jacoby 4-4-12;
Klaus 3-3-9. Totals: 20-14-54.

Local Citizens Enjoy Tropical Flowers

by Mary Lou Bercheni

Some people consider this plant the most beautiful wildflower in the world. It grows mostly high on the branches of trees in tropical rain forests, but can even be found on the floor of forests in Pennsylvania.

Colors of this plant range from soft ivory to vivid purples and reds, with a multitude of stripes and spot markings. Its size varies from a thumbnail to 5" in diameter.

Besides its beauty, this plant also has useful purposes, such as vanilla beans that make vanilla flavoring used in foods, or salex which is dried and used in medicine.

Have you guessed the name of the flower? Give yourself a 100% if you said the "orchid".

There are over 5000 types of orchids and many people have an interest in growing them as a hobby or a commercial venture.

According to Diane Vickery, owner of "Orchids Thoroughbred" in Dillsburg, orchids are easy to grow and make excellent houseplants. She said you have to find the plant that suits your growing conditions, sun, shade, warm, cool, or humid.

It takes 7 years for an orchid to go from seed to flower, and "Orchid Thoroughbred" carries over 250 varieties with flowers ranging from $5 to $30. According to Vickery, some types can cost up to $100, but they are not practical for the amateur grower.

Besides owning an orchid greenhouse, Vickery is involved in the Susquehanna Orchid Society as program chairperson and orchid judge. The Susquehanna Orchid Society started in 1980 according to newsletter Editor Colleen Monninger of Dillsburg. The society has over 100 dues-paying members including commercial growers, home greenhouse growers and amateur enthusiasts, from the local area as well as from Reading, State College, Maryland and Virginia.

Meetings are held every third Sunday at St. Peter's Church, Upper Allen Township, and are well attended. Meetings include a program speaker, show table of orchids to be judged, and refreshments.

John Geschwindt, Dillsburg, is vice-president of the society and has been growing orchids for 8 years. His first orchid was a gift but he now has over 90 plants. Geschwindt grows "Gaieteum" the common corsage orchid, "Paphiopedilum" lady slippers, and "Phalaenopsis" moth orchids. Each mature plant will bloom at least once a year.

Unlike society member Earl Walcott, Dillsburg, who has built

John Altice, 25, of Mountain Road, Dillsburg was injured seriously in a one car crash on Mountain Road last Saturday.

Altice was traveling west on Mountain Road at 9:00 a.m. when he lost control of his car striking several trees. According to police Altice was thrown from the car approximately 74 feet.

According to a spokesman for the Harrisburg Hospital, Altice was discharged yesterday. He was not wearing a seat belt, said police.

Officially, Northern had been scheduled to visit Camp Hill for a wrestling match on December 15th. Because of the Lions' participation in the State Football Championships, that date was changed to January 16th. I'm not sure the results would have been any different as the Polar Bears simply crushed Camp Hill 55 to 15.

Things got started in a hurry for the hapless Lions, as they forfeited the first two matches giving Northern a 12 to 0 lead. The Polar Bears were able to build on that lead before Camp Hill was able to secure any points, winning the first of only three matches they were to gain victory in all night long.

Leading 25 to 3, after Matt Ayers won a tough 9-6 decision at 135 lb., the Polar Bears went on a rampage to record five straight falls-four of them in the first periods of each match. This gave the Bears a gigantic 55 to 3 margin, that was only slightly diminished when Mark Bittinger (189) and Jim Miller (275) themselves became first period pin victims.

True enough that this was not a very good Camp Hill squad, but it was just what the doctor ordered for the Bears to reclaim any lost momentum following the loss to Red Land. In reporting that match, we made Northern fans aware of an injury to Chris Bentley. As a followup, we are very proud to report that Chris's injury was a pinched nerve in his neck, and while he will probably not wrestle against Chambersburg (1/19) he should be back in Northern's line-up for the New Oxford match (1/21).

Northern 55, Camp Hill 15

Camp Hill Smacks Polar Bears

by John Middlekauff

In what must be described as one of their better efforts of late, the Northern Boys Basketball Squad was still overwhelmed by Camp Hill 81 to 56. During the early part of the game Northern simply refused to bow to Camp Hill and even made it close at times. The Lions ability to exert great pressure on the Polar Bears defensively is basically what was to 'do in' Northern. Time and time again Camp Hill was able to intercept passes and strip the ball away from the Bears and turn them in easy lay-up points. Of the Lions 26 points in the first quarter, 14 were lay-up points. 16 of the 22 third quarter points were of the same type. The Lions defense clearly made life miserable for the Bears, especially in the third quarter when they were only able to score 6 points.

The Polar Bears were led by Matt Lerew with a game high 24 points. Matt was aided by Brian Newman who contributed 12 points. Camp Hill finished three players in double figures.

Polar Bears Lose to Falcons

by John Middlekauff

Lower Dauphin paid a visit to Northern Friday night, looking to improve on their 2 and 12 record. The Polar Bears aided the Falcons cause as they dropped a 67 to 43 verdict.

Trailing Lower Dauphin by only three at the end of the first quarter, Northern stayed right with the Falcons until very late in the second quarter. With the score 26 to 21 in their favor, Lower Dauphin hit for eight straight points before Northern could score, giving the Falcons a 34 to 22 cushion heading into the second half. With this 12 point bulge, the Falcons built that into a twenty point margin by the end of the third quarter and coasted home with their third win of the season.

As has happened so often this season, Northern just was not able to sustain any kind of formidable offense. They would trade L.D. basket for basket, they the Falcons would get 6 or 8 points before the Bears would score again. If Northern could ever get its sharp-shooters to hit at the same time, it might be interesting to see what happens. Again Northern was led by Senior Matt Lerew with 12 points, but no one else hit for doubles.

L. Dauphin 14 20 16 17-67
Northern 11 11 8 13-43
Newman 3-2-9; Grimm 1-0-2;
Ference 1-0-2; Lerew 3-6-12;
Brechiel 3-1-7; Hertweck 2-0-5;
Mehring 1-0-2; Fox 0-4-4, 3 point goals: Newman, Hertweck. Totals 14-13-43.

Susquenita Bombs Bears

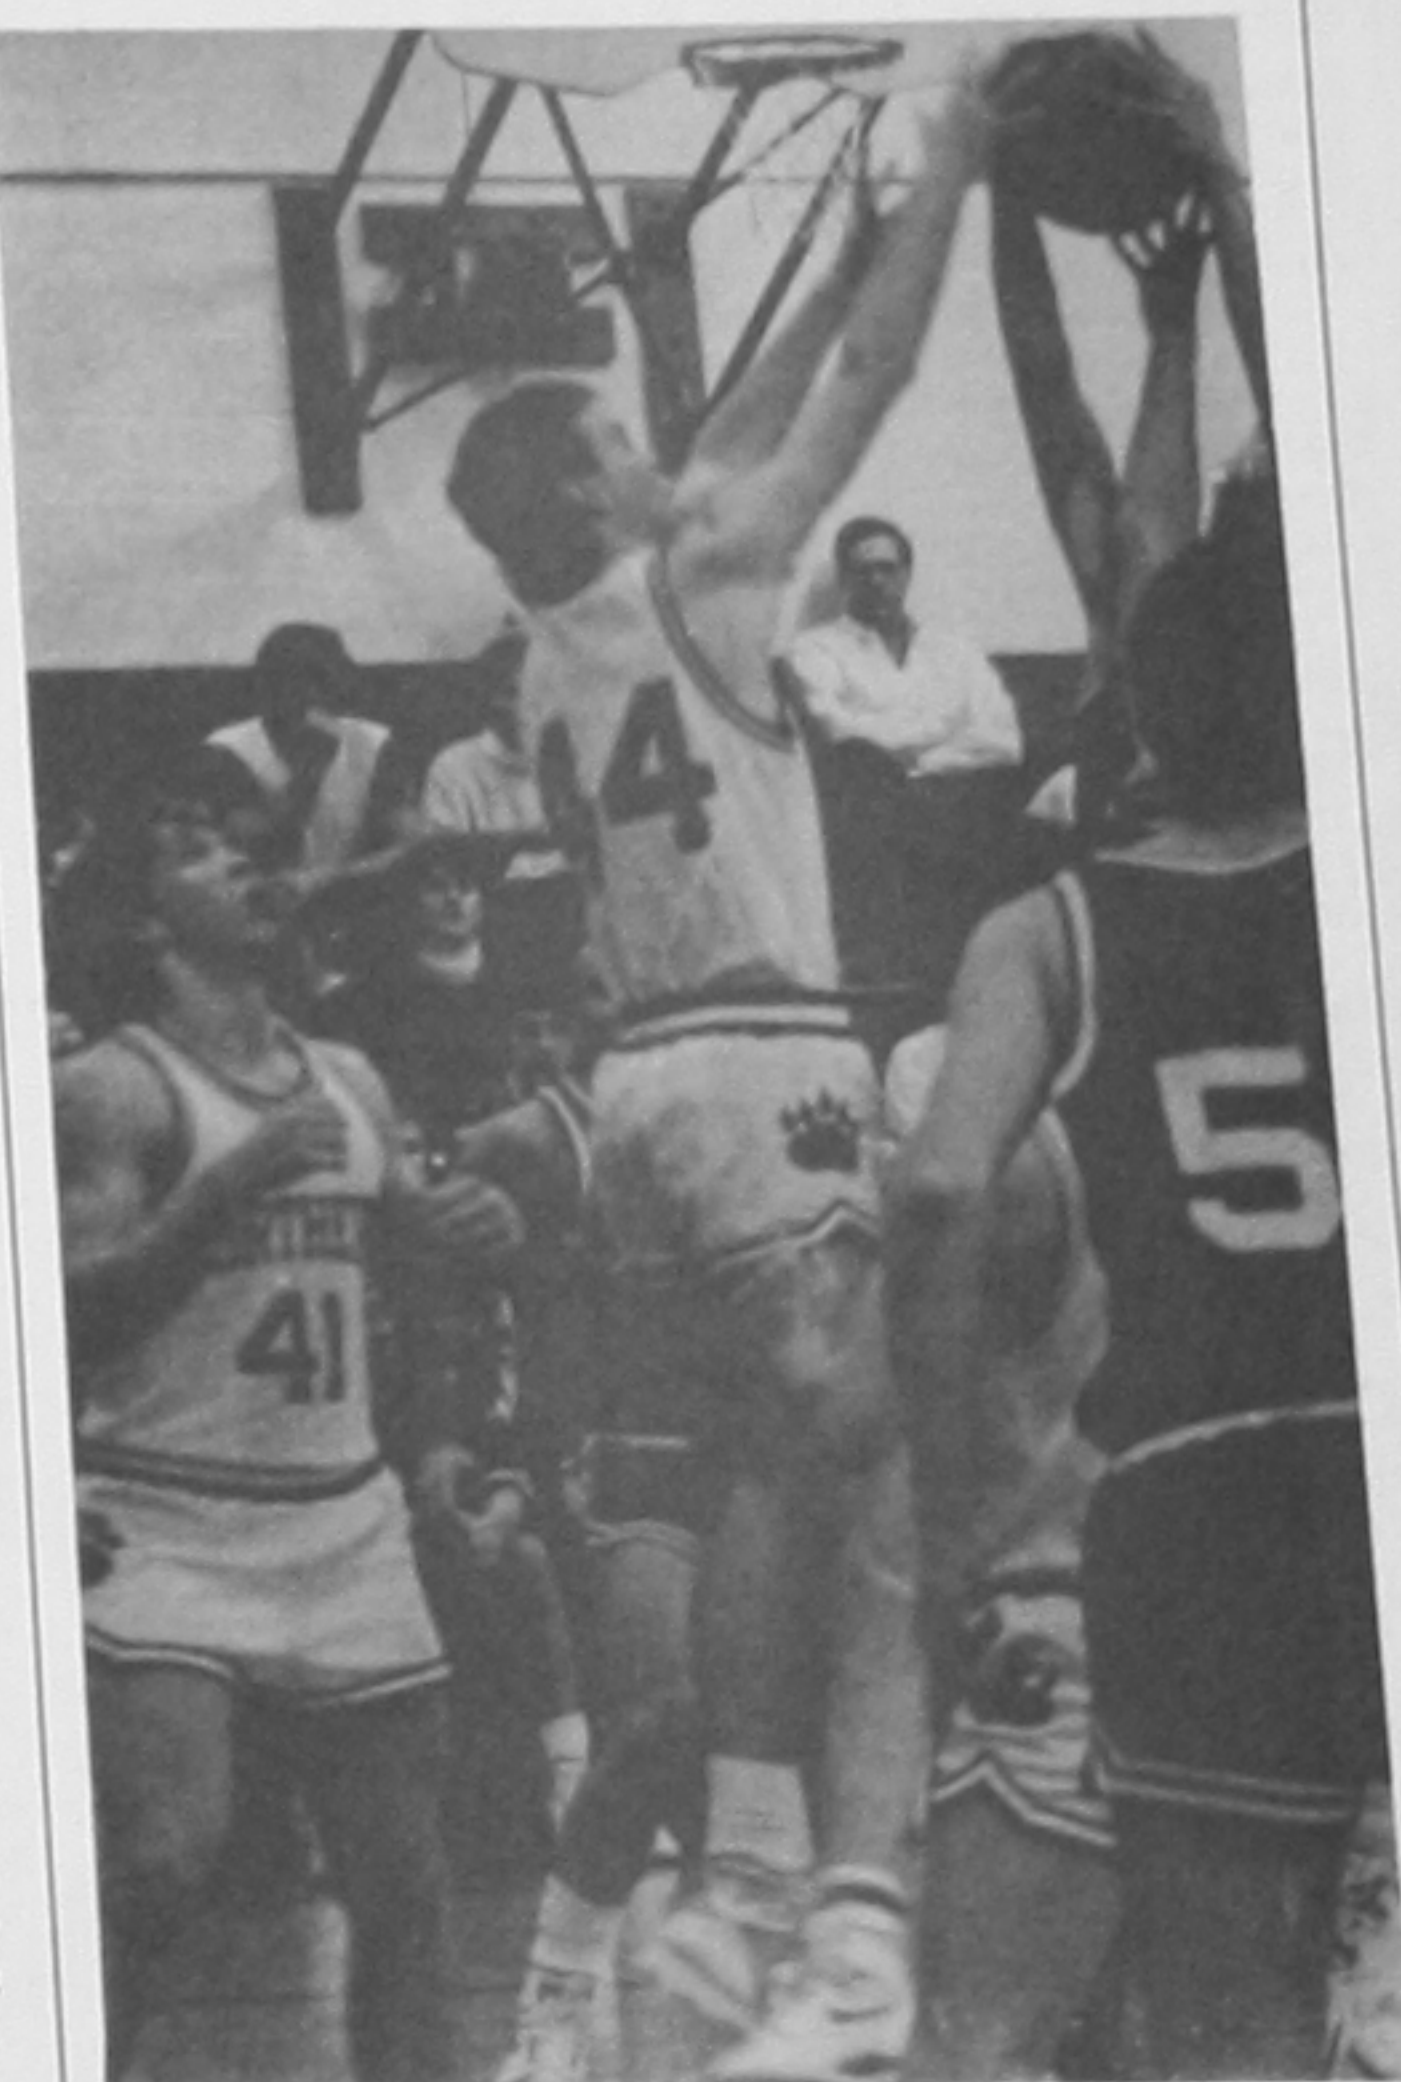

by John Middlekauff

Playing at Susquenita, in a makeup game from an earlier postponement, the Northern Boys Basketball Team was literally "bombed" out of its game with the Blackhawks 74 to 51. The "bombs" in this case were of the 3-point variety! Susquenita nailed an amazing ten of those suckers to top-end the Polar Bears who played one of their better games.

While outscoring Northern in each of the four quarters, Susquenita was not able to relax against a very tenacious Northern squad looking for victory number one. Trailing the Blackhawks 37 to 27 at half, the Polar Bears came out of the locker room and cut the margin to five before Susquenita's "mad bombers" nailed down the victory by running off a 22 to 11 fourth quarter to end Northern's hopes.

Leading the Polar Bears once again was Matt Lerew with 14 points. Joining Matt in the double figure column was Brian Newman with 11 points and Bart Mehning who also chipped in with 11. For Mehning, this productive game is just a window opener for the future. Along with Joe Fox, these two young men are getting their battle scars, playing the J.V. games and then being given much needed varsity time. While this year is no doubt a struggle the future doesn't look that bleak!

Northern 14 13 13 11-51
Susquenita 21 16 15 22-74
Newman 4-1-11; Grimm 1-2-4;
Lerew 6-2-14; Hertweck 4-0-9;
Mehring 2-7-11; Fox 1-0-2, 3 point goals: Newman 2, Hertweck. Totals: 18-12-51
