Over 60 compete in fishing derby

by Susan Schrack

The fish population in the pond on the Range End Country Club golf course is now considerably lower as young fisherman, ranging from ages 0-12, participated in Saturday morning's Fishing Derby.

The annual event sponsored by the Dillsburg Jaycees began at 6:30 a.m. and according to Tim Brown, project chairman, 60 fisherman were registered.

Starting at 7:00 a.m. the children spent two hours eagerly pulling in fish after fish, while an impatient flock of geese stood waiting to reclaim their pond.

At 9:00, the fishing stopped and the judging began. A trophy and a fishing rod & reel were given to the highest winners in each category. Molly Brown, age 2-1/2, won the award for being the Youngest Fisherman. In the 0-6 age category the award for Most Fish Caught went to Andrea Skaelly for reeling in 29 fish; the Heaviest Fish Caught went to Mike Featman for his 2-1/2 pounder; and the Longest Fish Caught went to Josh Eyler for his 17-1/2 inch.

In the 6-12 age category the award for Most Fish Caught went to Steve Long for battling 41 fish; the Heaviest Fish caught went to Josh Shuman for his 2-1/4 pound fish; and the Longest Fish Caught went to Jim Taylor for his 17-1/4 inch.

A small tackle bag, donated by the Sportsmen's Connection, was given to each participant. Bait and fishing rods were supplied by the contestants.

Proud parents and children had a busy morning. It was lots of fun for everyone involved-everyone, that is, except the fish.

Commissioners to travel by Motorcycle to their next meeting

York County Commissioners will demonstrate their commitment to motorcycle safety and awareness this Wednesday, June 28th, when they travel to their next out-of-town meeting via motorcycle.

Commissioners Lorraine Hovis and Ronald Fitzkee will ride as passengers on motorcycles operated by members of the York County Motorcycle Safety Council. Commissioner George Trout, a licensed motorcyclist, has agreed to operate a Council member's Harley-Davidson.

"I'm really looking forward to this opportunity," said Trout, "and I can't wait to get back in the saddle again."

York County Motorcycle Safety Council President Bill Eyler and Barry Ness, motorcycle safety coordinator the York County Center for Highway Safety Programs, hope that the combined efforts of the YCMSC and York County Commissioners will help educate the public that sharing the road is everyone's responsibility.

"We're really looking forward to this event," said Ness, "our safety and awareness effort has been designed to encourage one-on-one contact between motorcyclists and motorists. The continued support of York County Commissioners is certainly behind the success of this program."

The Commissioners ride is part of the regional "Celebrate Summer Safety" campaign kicked off at last Wednesday's Commissioners meeting.

Helmets and other proper riding gear will be provided to the Commissioners by YCMSC members.

In the event of inclement weather, the ride will be postponed until the next Commissioners' out-of-town meeting.

Ride Schedule: 6:20 p.m.-York County Commissioners depart from York County Courthouse; 6:40 p.m.-Commissioners arrive at Dover Township Fire Hall; 6:45 to 6:55 p.m.-Photo opportunity for the media.

Dillsburg Elementary receives first fund raiser poster

Cats have joined the American Lung Association of South Central Pennsylvania in their fight against lung disease. The American Lung Association is selling cat posters with "We Don't Want You To Smoke" written underneath it as its newest fund raiser.

The ALA is inviting the public to purchase one or more posters to be dedicated to the children of York, Adams and Cumberland County area elementary schools to remind the children that "Smoke Free Is The Way To Be." The elementary school to receive the gift may be of the persons choice or they may let the Lung Association take care of the details, and in turn, the ALA will inform the person of the school in which the poster has been dedicated.

The poster will be elegantly framed with a brass plate suspended below which would say, "A Gift From..." with your name, or your families name engraved on it. The framed and dedicated poster can be purchased for $125. We have asked industries to make a $250 donation for the poster. The posters can also be purchased for your home.

For further information contact the American Lung Association of South Central Pennsylvania at 845-LUNG, 1-800-351-1512.

Elementary School Principal Larry Rhene accepts a "Please Don't Smoke" poster from Jane Alexander, president of J. & J. Agri Products.

The poster comes from the American Lung Association and was sponsored by J. & J. Agri Products. The painting will hang in the school office. Dillsburg Elementary was chosen to be the first school to receive the poster since the sponsoring business was from Dillsburg.

Vanity License Plates

Rep. Bruce Smith today advised constituents that the state Transportation Department is accepting applications for seven-character vanity license plates.

Smith said application forms (MV-904) are available at his district office. The forms still list a maximum of only six characters on the plate, but individuals should fill in the seven characters desired and the application will be processed.

Use of vanity plates is restricted to passenger cars and light trucks under 9,000 pounds.

The cost of obtaining a vanity plate is $20. After the initial $20 fee to obtain the plate is paid, registrations are renewed at the normal annual rates ($24 for passenger cars, $39 for trucks).

Motorists making application for vanity plates should allow eight to ten weeks for delivery.

Smith said applicants may want to contact PennDOT to determine if the number-letter combination they want is available. The information number for the Bureau of Motor Vehicles is (717) 787-3130.

He said motorists may contact his district office at Fairview Industrial Park, 540-B Industrial Drive, Lewisberry, PA 17339 for additional information about the application process. The telephone number is 938-4988.

Franklin Township Board of Supervisors Meeting-June 20,

By Susan Schrack

During the June 20th meeting of the Franklin Township Board of Supervisors police officer Carlos Trump stated that stronger enforcement of speeding laws is to be implemented on Rt. 15 and on township roads.

Assistant Fire Chief Clair Zeiders of Citizen's Hose Co. #1 of Dillsburg gave the fire report and advised those present that Palonis portable heaters have started many house fires and the manufacturers are recalling them. He also gave a warning about the Black & Decker under-the-counter coffee makers, which have also been responsible for house fires. Assistant Chief Zeiders ended his report by cautioning people who own fiberglass or plastic furniture to be careful, because these items emit very toxic fumes if they catch on fire.

Residents of Mill Drive expressed their concerns with speeding traffic. The township planned to have the road repaved, but residents with small children worried that the smoother surface would only increase the speeds. The board voted to erect "Watch Children" sign on the road.

The Edward Seik 25-lot subdivision on South Baltimore Road (Rt. 194) was approved, subject to the following: The preparation and execution of an improvement agreement by the township solicitor which satisfies all bonding requirements; the sealing of the present well and septic system in satisfaction of the Dillsburg Borough Authority in connection with public sewage; the maintenance of the retention pond by a homeowners association; and the contribution of $6,250.00 from the developer to the township recreation fund. The plan, although technically approved, will not be recorded until the improvement agreement and the necessary bonding is in place.

The revised Robert Grace subdivision plan on St. George Drive was considered. The revised plan is basically the same as the prior one, except an easement was removed because the engineer claimed there was none established. This caused a dispute between Grace and Mr. Glenn Smith. Smith claimed he needs the easement to gain access to woodland to the northwest of Grace's tract. Solicitor Emico declared that the township subdivision ordinance requires any visible paths or roads to be shown on subdivision plans. The plan was tabled to enable the developer to locate the existing pathway on the plan.

William Eichelberger's preliminary 5-lot plan was reviewed and disapproved. The disapproval was due to the lack of an approved storm water management plan. There is a drainage problem from the present property and it is probable that there would be a drainage problem from subdivision also. In this case, both properties would drain onto the neighbor's farm and create problems.

Gregory Oley's subdivision plan on private Chain Saw Road was disapproved for the reason that the subdivision ordinance forbids subdivisions off of private roads into parcels of less than 2 acres. The subdivision is on 2 lots with one parcel less than an acre. Oley will need to request a variance from the subdivision requirement. The township comprehensive plan was amended for Oley's sewage planning module based on satisfactory review and approval by SEO Grove.

Lewis Jr. and Doris Gerber requested a hearing regarding a sewage test for Lot #5 on Glenwood Road. The lot was subdivided a few years ago and because of the time period, testing and permitting was necessary. The board agreed to instruct the township SEO to issue a permit for an on-lot disposal system in consideration of an executed hold harmless agreement which the township solicitor will prepare at the expense of the applicant.

The board disapproved the land development plan of Ted Laukemann, Jr. and Long Lengths, Inc. due to lack of an approved storm water management plan. Laukemann also needs a written request for a waiver from the water and sewage hookup requirement.

Dr. Sarda Tariq attended the meeting. He would like to subdivide his property on Gameland Road (Lot #2). The board advised him that part of the subdivision process would require him to connect to public water and sewage.

The Michael Dobrinoff mobile home situation was reviewed. Dobrinoff was to have a land development plan to the township or the mobile homes in question were to be disconnected from facilities and moved. The board understands that the mobile homes are still there and one is possibly occupied. The board voted to return the building permit fee and inform Dobrinoff that the township Building Permit Officer and the Township Sewage Enforcement Officer will inspect the situation and if violations still exist, he will be prosecuted.

The board will refund $757.55 to Liberty Associates due to the installation of the leaching bed verified for Lot #19, Liberty Meadows, by Grove Associates.

It was reported that Latimore Township will construct four-way stop signs on their portion of the intersection of Line Road and Capitol Hill Road. Roadmaster Lerew reported that signs for the Franklin Township side were purchased and should be erected soon.

The board voted to put up signs denoting a blind resident on West Greenhouse Road, and also to install a stop sign at the intersection of Mill Drive and Clear View extended.

PennDOT responded to Representative Broujos request. They will be putting up the sign at the intersection of Clear View Road and Cabin Hollow Road as the township had previously requested.

The township will request Chief Smith to check on the property status of Alfred Shaulis, Fred Kimmel, and Paul Miller in connection with possible violations of township ordinances.

The board approved road occupancy permits of GTE for Capitol Hill Road and for Scotch Pine Road. Also, Coffeetown Road will be widened and repaved next year.

Charles Fox was at the meeting in connection with a letter sent by the township to his father, Harry Fox Sr., concerning a mobile home parked on the Fox property with no permit. The township, in that letter, had notified Mr. Fox to have the mobile home removed by

"MY DAZE" to be reprinted in the Dillsburg Banner

By Marie Chomicki

Back in the early 1950's, Herb Harris, retired owner of the Dillsburg Dress Company on West York Street, wrote a weekly column for The Gettysburg Times.

The column, "My Daze", contained humorous tidbits about residents, events, clubs and businesses in the local area, including Dillsburg and York Springs.

Herb wrote his column for the Times under Editor Paul Roy for 4-5 years. His columns were either mailed in or picked up by a York Springs reporter.

Many of our readers out there may remember the column, and as a special feature, we will be reprinting many of his columns weekly.

We are sure many of the columns will bring back memories and we will appreciate any feedback or comments you would like to share with us.

Herb presently runs Industrial Sewing Machine, the fabric store located in the alley behind the former dress factory.

Here you can buy "one of a kind" pieces of material, since Herb buys sample fabrics, each a couple yards long. According to Herb (when making your own outfit), "You knew your were not going to be duplicated anywhere else."

Herb has been an active businessman in Dillsburg since 1949 when he opened his first dress shop, the Dillsburg Dress Company. He branched out into York Springs in 1953 with the York Springs Dress Company.

Employing a combined total of over 50 women, his dress companies contracted for clothing manufactures, including Orweko Frock, Mechanicsburg and Kahn-Lucas, Lancaster, making high quality house dresses, "brunch" coats and house coats. These manufactures sold nationwide to such chains as Sears, Grants and Pennys.

In addition to contracting to major manufactures, Herb sold to retail stores throughout Pennsylvania, including the one he owned for several years during the 1960's called, The "Little" Shop which was located at 11 S. Baltimore Street (the former Electrolux store).

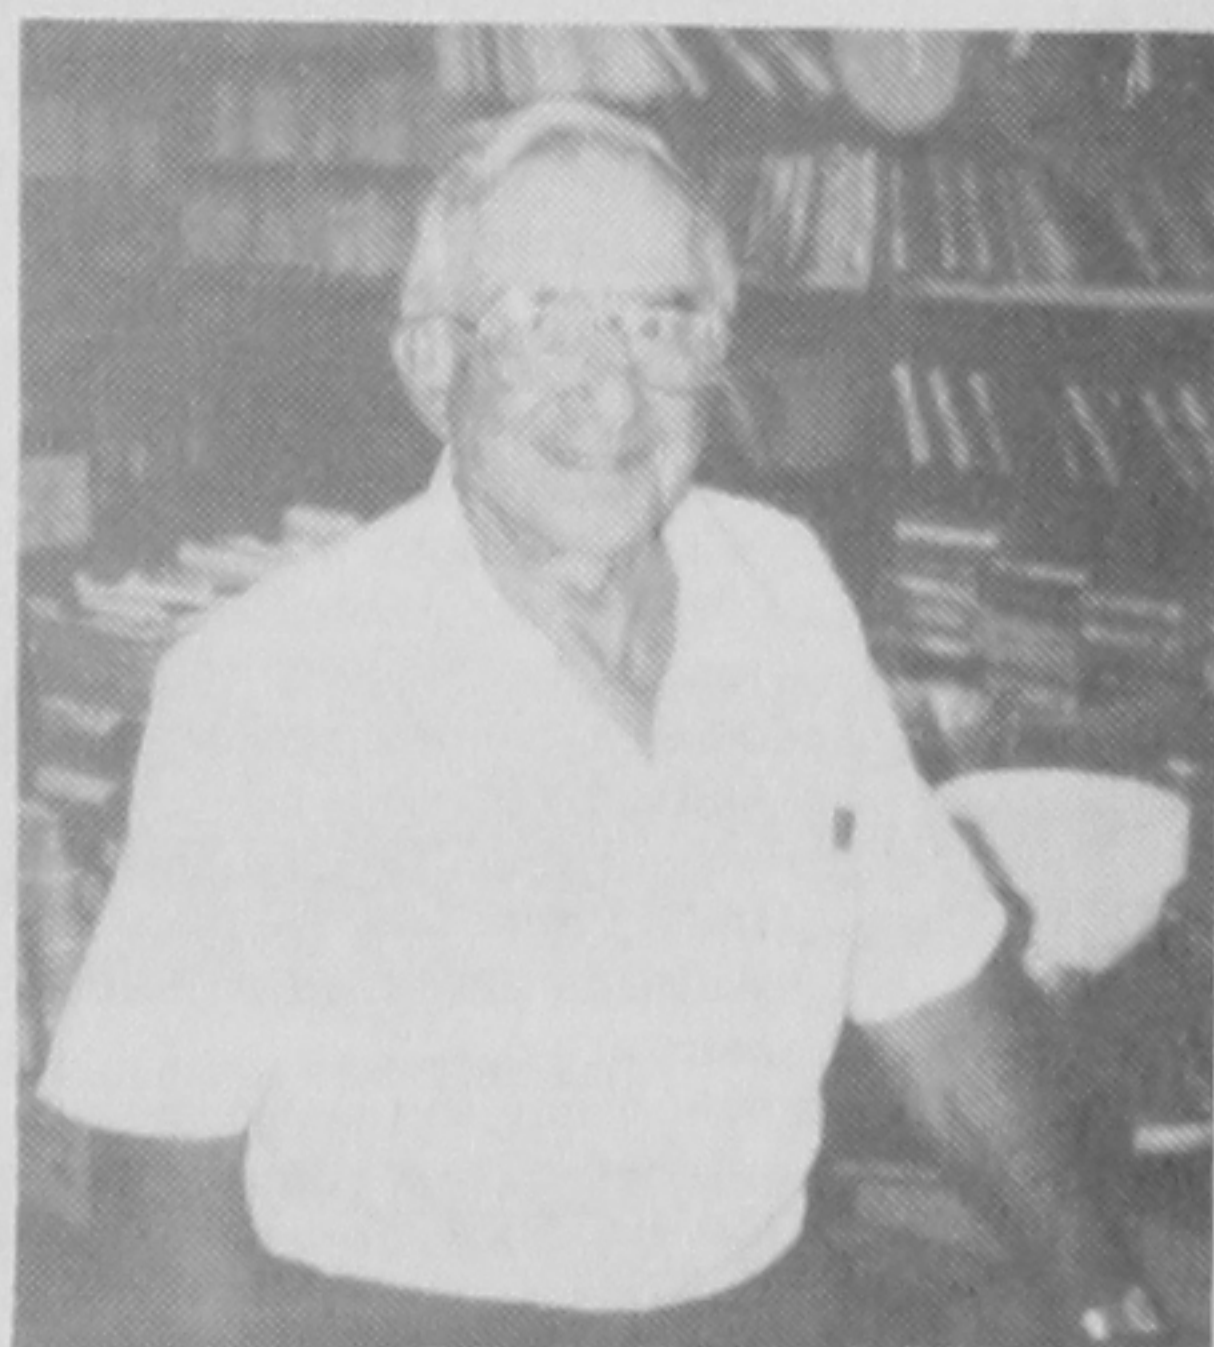

Herb sold the York Springs plant in the late 1950's. The Dillsburg business was sold in 1981 to Deb Sportswear, which soon folded. The building is presently owned by Earl Blizzard, who runs a plumbing business.

Herb is a graduate of William Penn High School and served in the United States Army from May 1941 to 1945.

Before opening his dress factory in Dillsburg he ran his own diaper service in Harrisburg.

He presently resides in Harrisburg.

Although still busy with the yard goods store, one can surely catch Herb between the hours of 7:00 and 7:45 a.m. at the Chalet, where he is presently a member and Treasurer of the Chalet Club, a small group of close friends who share their companionship daily over breakfast.

"MY DAZE"

DILLSBURG...Signs of summer: The corner gang at Wolfe's restaurant gracing the benches at noon time, presided over by Charley Chronister... Mox's used cars blossoming out on the open now... Local Lions entertained the Old Timers at their annual affair last Tuesday... Some of those "Old Timers" look younger than some the us "Young Timers." ...John Baker's Motel undergoing surgery again performed by the Albert Bros...He's so busy building that he hasn't had time to do a blessed thing to that Model T Ford...Mustn't let business interfere with pleasure, Johnny!!!...Noticed the guy doesn't even have time to shave... Bentz has been taking it easy since his right hand man, Grim is out of the army...Local Post Office getting a spring cleaning...Maybe they'll find some of those letters I mailed last year...or possible a few Christmas cards from 1949...Old Man Mike Nell attempting the impossible : He's going to pitch again this year...

YORK SPRINGS...Suffered another flash flood not so long ago. Wonder why the town (or state) doesn't do something to alleviate this condition...or will the people sit back and wait for their homes to be flooded time and time again!

While dining in Bob Thompson's Diner, (York Springs) noticed a jar on the counter with pennies in it. The placard attached proudly proclaimed: "Vote for Phyllis Yohn, Apple Butter Queen"...I put a penny in the jar, even though I loath apple butter - But Oh, that Phyllis! If ya wanna see those beauties vying for the above title, be sure to attend Penna. Dutch Day, June 26, and 27...Speaking of Thompson's diner: They positively give ya too much food to eat! That's rather rare in these times...Right before school ended, local high school lads and lassies were taken on a tour through the York Springs bank...I notice one large fellow paying particular attention to the time lock mechanism. Wonder if he intends to become a safe cracker when he graduates? ? ?

Rebecca was upset to learn she didn't get the partnership. Wait To See: Sam has her own ideas about making it as a model.

GUIDING LIGHT: Roger was taken to the police infirmary where Blake donated blood for him. Later, Blake was charged as an accessory to Roger. Vaughn refused to admit to Phillip that Roger was involved with the CIA. Billy, Rusty, and Sonni threatened to hang Will. Reva learned Kay was not with Will the night Rose disappeared. Maureen blew up at Ed after learning Holly was staying with him. Meredith decided she would leave Rick. Wait To See: The shooting of Alan

Michael and Phillip creates chaos.

KNOTS LANDING: On hiatus
LOVING: Jack brought Abril to stay with Kate. Alex taped Trucker's deposition about Clay. Ava agreed to trade information to Clay for money to help pay Alex's attorney. Trisha told Clay she resigned as his daughter, and then went off to be with Trucker. Juliet mailed the cup fragment and the lab analysis showing it had contained drugs to Stacey, who put it aside, unopened. Rick told Curtis and Todd he bought Forbes Construction; he wants the job done right, but the client drained dry. Wait To See: Ava's best intentions are used against her.

ONE LIFE TO LIVE: Bo was found dazed, lying in the grave, unable to tell who hit him. Bo and Megan decided to check out Austin's grave. They spotted an arm and, not knowing it was Chester's, assumed Austin was, indeed, dead and buried. A distraught Sarah learned she was pregnant; was it as a result of Austin's rape? Dan was upset to learn Larry and Brenda planned to marry. Viki sent Cord to Milan to help Tina who was accused of assisting artifact smugglers. Wait To See: Gabrielle has an idea of how to stop Austin for good.

SANTA BARBARA: Raphael realized Mephisto was also holding Cruz as a prisoner. Ric and Eden reached Cruz; together they freed Raphael and emerged through a doorway to find Mephisto holding a gun on them. Michael told Laura he always loved her, but she was now Ethan's wife, and he wouldn't interfere with her marriage. At the custody hearing, Mason told the judge Scott had a right to joint custody with Heather's unborn baby. Wait To See: Ric and Cruz face an old adversary.

YOUNG & THE RESTLESS: Leanna saw Cassie leaving Michael's office with her file of notes. Rex was stunned to hear Clint propose to Gina only moments before he was ready to blow the whistle on him to his daughter. Britt told Victor she was sure Paul did not murder her Uncle George. Kay cracked on the stand and admitted that she and Jill had not told Nina the truth about Philip's estate, but had acted only to protect his baby son's interest. Jim gave Cricket a legal "Acknowledgment of Paternity" document. Paul theorized George hired someone to kill him and then frame Paul for the murder.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

by Charles King Cooper

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) You are going to receive a surprise financial backing for a project that you have had on the back burner for quite some time now. Consult with honchos in a position to help you implement your ideas. Beware of tension on job that could lead to clashes of temperament.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Your charm wins you new friends this week, but being too pushy and overly confident could lead to problems with a close friend or foe. Certain domestic problems require your immediate attention on the home front. Downplay your sometimes lofty ego for success this week.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) This week you will be bogged down with pesty, but important, domestic concerns. On the job this week, your mornings will be unproductive, but you make up for lost time in the afternoon hours. Certain problems may arise in connection with family members now. This is a crucial time to guard assets.

MOON CHILDREN (June 21 to July 22) Avoid procrastinating over a pressing career matter. Self-preoccupation mars effectiveness. Also, be wary of a strong-willed member of the opposite sex who wants you to pursue them. This is not the time to chase a mate, but to reach an equal ground and a meeting of the minds.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) This is a perfect week to ask for a raise or to promote your interests in business. Income should improve this week, but avoid arguments with a partner about money. Romance is definitely on your agenda this weekend and leisure pursuits are happily emphasized. Accept surprise invitations.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Your social life picks up dramatically this weekend. Singles meet with romantic introductions. This is a time to get out and about, so don't entertain guests on the home front. Enjoy your new-found popularity. Many people find you extremely attractive and charming now.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) This is a perfect time for a shopping spree. It is wise now to stock up on necessities for your home and take advantage of bargains. This week you will win many friends and influence close ties. Group interests and activities are favored now.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Staying close to home this week will be more satisfactory to you than socializing outside your friendly confines. Career developments this week could mean extra income for you or a possible promotion. Put the finishing touches on a creative project.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Don't involve yourself this week in activities that are physically taxing. Things go pretty much your way now, but be careful that you don't spend too much money foolishly. Your intuition about a mate seems to work better now than just pure logic. Trust your instincts.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) A friend will have the right advice for you concerning a personal matter this week. Beware of some friction with an in-law. Beware of evening guests who just might overstay their welcome. Your creative interests are highlighted now, so don't put off a pressing project.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) This week you gain new insights into an old problem. Your social life will be highlighted this weekend — so enjoy. Be patient with a family member, or close friend, who may be careless in some way. Beware of your tendency to exaggerate in order to impress.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) New levels of self-understanding are reached this week. You just may have some second thoughts about your love life at this particular time. However, don't make any rash judgments. Now is not the time to leave others hanging, so be sure to follow through with your commitments since others are depending upon you. Excellent time to take up a new hobby.

ASK DR. LAMB

DEAR DR. LAMB: I have been on Coumadin for several years and know I must not take anything containing aspirin. While visiting my daughter, my back was aching and she had Advil. We read and reread the container and it stated absolutely no aspirin. It did help and I took one or two a day for five or six days.

I started feeling terrible. I went to the doctor and told him I had taken Advil. I ended up in the hospital with severe anemia. After four days of tests and four units of blood, I went home. There was no reason found for bleeding and nothing was said in regard to the Advil. I think Advil was the culprit. There should be more information and warning on the bottle!

DEAR READER: You should not take aspirin, Advil, Nuprin, ibuprofen or Motrin with any medicine that you may be taking to prevent blood clotting, such as Coumadin. All of these medicines increase the tendency to bleed, and you shouldn't take any combination of them, either. I agree completely that all the medicines like Advil and related medicines should carry a warning about increasing the action of anti-clotting medicines and may cause a hemorrhage.

All of these medicines and aspirin should also carry a warning about alcohol. Even Tylenol, and other medicines that contain acetaminophen, may increase the action of Coumadin and result in bleeding. But acetaminophen will not cause bleeding if taken by itself.

I have included a table of most of the common medicines that you can buy or are prescribed which may affect a tendency to bleed in my recently revised Special Report WS41, Aspirin and Other Analgesics.

Q. I was, to say the least, quite impressed with Pittsburgh Pirate slugger Andy Van Slyke and his recent barechested portrait in Vogue magazine. How come Madison Avenue has not yet picked up this baseball star for a strong advertising campaign to endorse a particular product? Ms. P., Spokane, Wash.

A. When it comes to athletes, Madison Avenue usually picks an athlete from a major metropolitan area like New York or Los Angeles, or, for instance, a World Series MVP or Super Bowl MVP. However, Andy made such a splash with his Vogue appearance that the rumor mill has B.V.D. underwear courting Andy for an endorsement. The campaign would be similar to the Jim Palmer underwear ads from a few years back.

Q. With all the slack and poor publicity Rob Lowe has recently received from his supposed home orgy porno flick featuring a minor, I was wondering if he was led to do this because he is still hurting from his breakup with Melissa Gilbert. E.G., Fort Worth, Texas

A. It has been quite a long time since Rob and Melissa were an item. Reportedly, Rob was a bit stunned by her marriage to playwright Bo Brinkman back in 1988, but he apparently got over it fairly quickly. Rob and Melissa still reportedly remain very good friends and Lowe was mainly upset over her marriage because he was not originally informed about her marriage intentions until after the fact.

Q. What is the status of the Morton Downey, Jr. talk show? I hear that it is going to be going off the air. C.G., Buffalo, N.Y.

A. Downey's show originally debuted with 63 affiliates across the nation picking up the show. That number has now increased to 72 stations. However, it has been rumored that many of these stations are now disenchanted with the explosive nature of Downey's personality and show. In fact, most stations have moved the talk slugfest to the wee hours of the morning. Rumor mongers across the nation do say the show's days appear numbered. Only time will tell.

Q. Will "Hee-Haw" be returning to the airwaves next fall? R.B., Winter Haven, Fla.

A. The popular and corny television show will be returning for an unprecedented 22nd season next fall with Roy Clark returning as host. Such cast regulars as Minnie Pearl, Grandpa Jones and George Lindsey will all be back. Among some of the stars guest appearing next season are, Kathy Mattea, Loretta Lynn, Barbara Mandrell, The Judds, Ricky Skaggs, Regis Philbin and Roy Rogers to name just a few.

Q. Is it true that Patrick Swayze has entered the restaurant business like many other movie and television stars? D.B., Fort Lee, N.J.

A. Not only has Patrick entered the restaurant business, but he is expanding along with his partner Bobby Ochs. Swayze's "Mulholland Drive Cafe" on Third Avenue in New York City grossed over $4 million in its first year of existence. So another eatery is in the works in North Miami called "Mulholland Drive Cafe in North Miami." The opening is set for September 15th with Patrick on hand to greet customers with fine food and hooch.

Q. I read somewhere that Sidney Poitier and Eartha Kitt were once married and that they have a child. Is this true? Hannah B., St. Louis, Mo.

Q. What was the name of the play in which Eartha Kitt supposedly played an insect much like the one Mikhail Baryshnikov is now playing on Broadway? Please answer soon since I have a dinner bet riding on this. Bill McF., Yonkers, N.Y.

A. It's true that Poitier and Kitt have been married, but never to each other. Eartha Kitt costarred with Eddie Bracken in the Broadway production of "Shinbone Alley" based on the Archie and Mehitabel stories. Eartha played Mehitabel the cat; Archie is the cockroach who tells the writer about her by leaving notes in his typewriter. Archie jumps from key to key and since he's very small, he can't push down the shift keys, which is why nothing is capitalized in his stories. Bracken played Archie. Baryshnikov does his insect bit in "Metamorphosis." I don't know if this wins you the dinner, but the question drove me buggy.

Q. Is John Travolta ever going to make another movie? I keep reading about project he has underway, but so far nothing has developed. Please let me know as soon as you can since I really care about him. Ann D., Chicago, Ill.

A. Some Hollywood sources say Travolta has run into a patch of bad luck. He does, indeed, have plans for a few productions, but so far he's been unable to get them off the ground for one reason or another. Still, he is a popular performer and should be back making films regularly.

Q. Whatever happened to George Reinhold whom I used to watch on "One Life to Live" years ago until they killed him off. Did he ever do another soap? Millie W., Miami, Fla.

A. After he left the soap scene several years ago, Reinhold started teaching and doing theater. He recently appeared on the 25th anniversary show for "Another World" where he played Steve Frame for years before going on to "One Life to Live." George reportedly says he's open to offers from soap producers.

Q. How many children does Barbara Walters have? Marilyn G., Brooklyn, N.Y.

A. Barbara and her former husband, the late producer Lee Guber, adopted a daughter.

DEAR DEX

by Dexter Dyer

DEAR DEX:

A few months ago, I started a new job with a large firm. One of my co-workers is a black female and we have become really good friends. We've been going out for dinner after work, or just stop and have a few drinks. Now we have started dating and everything is going along just great. Her parents live cross country, so meeting them is not so important now. My parents live across town, and she would really like to meet them. My parents have many problems and one certainly is interracial relationships. I think my parents would flip. I don't want to lose this girl, but I haven't the heart to tell her how my parents are. Any way I could do this without possibly ruining our chances of developing something more?

SCARED

DEAR SCARED:

I'm sure this woman is no stranger to prejudice. You should tell her honestly about how you think your parents will react. After all, you have nothing to be ashamed of since you did not become a racist. I feel strongly that she will understand.

As for your parents, you will have to deal with them eventually. You are going to have to meet them head-on on this one. They must know without a doubt that you care for this woman and any objections they have will not influence you in the least. Once they realize that, they will have no choice but to accept your choice.

DEAR DIANE

by Diane Van Arsdale

DEAR DIANE:

I'm 15 years old and have an 11-year-old sister who is handicapped. I try to always pay extra attention to her, and make sure that she always has something to do. I work with her on her school work, and she's really coming along well. Unfortunately, some of my friends don't like her being around us when we're going out. I feel I always have to defend her to my friends and strangers. If I should meet some guy from school, they usually have a problem with the fact that my sister is handicapped. She really has to fight every day of her life within herself, so I try to take the burden away for her from the cruel world out there. I try to deal with these people and their lack of understanding. Sometimes, I'm at a loss for words. How can I deal and explain to these people that she is no different from any of us?

HURT

DEAR HURT:

Sometimes I'm amazed at the number of ways we humans have of hurting each other. The people you describe as friends certainly can't be very good ones if they could treat you and your sister the way they do. I think you should look them all straight in the eye the next time they have a comment and say, "There but for the grace of God go I." That should set them thinking. You might also point out to these people that your sister may have her problems, but at least she is not deliberately cruel which certainly makes her a better human being!

DEAR DIANE:

All of my life I've tried to be good enough for my parents, but my sister and brother have youngest son is 24 years old. He has had so many jobs; he starts one, quits, starts another. Anyway, I have been wondering what he's been doing considering he's moving up so fast — nice car, gorgeous apartment, etc. Well, my worst dreams have come true. I know he's selling drugs. I can't turn my own son in, but I can't have him contributing to hurting and destroying people's lives. Is there any way I could stop him without turning him in? He's stubborn, and if I asked him to just stop selling those drugs, he would tell me where to go.

WORRIED SICK

DEAR WORRIED:

You're going to have to be strong. You must confront him with what you know. Tell him if he doesn't stop, you will turn him in. Be prepared to follow through. While I know you don't wish to see your son go to jail, he will eventually wind up there — or worse. Drug dealers don't fool around. Should he try to cross them, he very well could end up dead. I also think that when you confront him, you should not do so alone. Chances are, if he's dealing drugs, he's also doing them. People on drugs are not rational, and I believe they are capable of anything.

Paint & Household by Bob D'Angelo

Q. There's only one bathroom in our house, so mornings are usually a nightmare around here with everyone scrambling about trying to get out on time. Short of going through the expense of putting in another bathroom, what can you suggest? Kelly T., Dillsburg, Pa.

A. You could try dividing the existing family bath into two rooms. However, you most likely will not have enough space for two full baths, so you need to figure out which fixture is most in demand.

You might also establish other grooming centers outside the main bath. A bedroom or sectioned-off part of a closet is a suggestion for that. You might also make your utility room sink do double duty as a spot for morning and bedtime grooming routines. Any sink can be thus utilized as long as it has a drawer or two, a recessed medicine cabinet, a duplex electrical outlet, and good lighting.

Have a question? Send it to Bob D'Angelo, P.O. Box 173, East Norwich, N.Y. 11732.

Flick Picks by Debbie Fletcher

DEAD POETS SOCIETY — This movie takes us back to 1959, a time when we all held our collective breaths, almost as if we knew what was to come — social turbulence, civil rights, equality for women, hippies, drugs, the Beatles. In this pre-hippie time, we are taken to Welton Academy, an exclusive boys' prep school in Vermont. This school is in fact so reactionary, the viewer might think the headmaster fancies himself an English lord.

The boys who go to this school are all white, monied or certain to marry money, from the "right" families. Thrust into the middle of this stagnant, insular world is John Keating (Robin Williams), a school alumnus, who is back now as an English teacher.

What Keating sets out to do is get his students involved. His unconventional teaching methods and his love for poetry have the boys mesmerized and the hierarchy apoplectic. His rallying cry is "Carpe diem," translated from the Latin, "Seize the day!" And seize it Keating does, with a complexity and an energy that is compelling and stimulating. There could have been no better choice for Keating than whom I perceive as one of the greatest comedic geniuses of our time, Robin Williams. His performance is as exuberant and enthusiastic as the character.

Q. We live in a big city and are deathly afraid of break-ins. What sort of security system should we consider, since we know nothing about them? We certainly don't want to be talked into some super-expensive system by a salesman who's cashing in on our ignorance. Linda and David M., N.Y.C.

A. Sensors and receivers are basically considered the heart of an alarm system. However, these gadgets will not alert your neighbors or the authorities that the house is being burglarized. Thus, what you really want is a sounding device like a bell or siren.

Bells are generally less expensive than sirens, but bear in mind that they have a somewhat limited range and direction. They also make less noise. We recommend that you opt for a siren.

Whatever you choose to go with, be sure the device is outside the house in a place that's not too easily reached. For added protection, it should be enclosed in a protective, tamper-proof casing.

Rich Eichelberger and Carl Billet Win at Silver Spring

Rich Eichelberger drove to his third win of the season in Stroh's Sportsman racing action Saturday at Silver Spring Speedway. It was not an easy win for the current point leader. Eichelberger started the twenty-five lap feature event in the fifteenth starting position. It took like sixteen laps to chase down a sixteen year old driver who had held the front running position from the drop of the green flag.

Billy Crawford was the young driver out in front of the twenty-four car starting field. Coming off of a fifth place feature finish two weeks ago, Crawford was turning in another great ride in the Crawford Auto Sales, D&M Service sponsored Sportsman. Eichelberger moved through traffic quickly putting his Jerry Burkett owned Sportsman into the runner-up on lap eight. For the next eight laps, Eichelberger chased Crawford trying to overtake the youngster any way he could. In a winners circle interview like put it best. "Billy drove like a real veteran. I was trying every move I could to get by him and was starting to get worried that maybe I wouldn't."

Eichelberger's win continues his great run in the first half of the 1989 racing season. He now has nine top five finishes out of eleven Stroh's tour events. For Crawford, it was the best finish ever for a young driver who appears to have many top finishes ahead of him.

Bill Albright drove his No. 46 to a third place feature finish. It was Albright's best finish of the season in the competitive Sportsman division. Albright started the season very strong but was involved in a crash several weeks ago which twisted his machine. After a couple weeks of problems Bill came back strong for a fine ride to finish in the third spot. Pressuring Albright the final half of the race was John Murphy. The two time feature winner was unable to get by the quick running Albright and Murphy settled for fourth finishing spot. Danny Hager came a long way to finish fifth. Hager began the event in the seventeenth starting position.

Larry Jackson was the sixth place finisher with Howie Locke seventh. Leroy Martin did a great job to finish eighth with Smokey Snellbaker in the ninth position. The top ten was rounded out by Johnny Stoner.

Heat wins went to Larry Moore who was back in action after a several week layoff, Larry Jackson and Donnie Beaver. Twin consi races went to Smokey Snellbaker and Billy Howard.

Franklin Township

6/20/89. Charles said he is intending to place the mobile home on a lot he has secured (or is securing) from his father on Whiskey Springs Road and is waiting to do a sewage test on the lot, the test having been held up due to the excessive amount of rain lately. It was agreed to send a letter to Harry Fox Sr. notifying him to notify the township within 30 days of the results of the soil testing and/or the disposition of the mobile home.

The current status of the sink holes in the Union Church area was discussed. Engineer Grove had presented a study that was made on the situation and Mr. Grove reported that a formal report, from the expert on sink holes engaged by them, will be received soon.

Engineer Grove reported that the total bonding necessary for Twin Hills will be $178,787.00 and that his report has been submitted to the developer, Solicitor Emico and the board.

SEO Grove reported that they have issued a sewage permit to Leslie Lutz for an interim holding tank and that he has met with Mr. Lutz and his contractor to make sure that everything is understood. He also reported that the existing tank that is inside the building has been filled and the tank installed had concrete poured at all openings to insure the sealing. The township has not received any reports or a copy of the contract with a pumper from Mr. Lutz yet.

It was noted that the hearing at District Magistrate Paul Walters office for David Snyder for alleged violation of the sewage facilities act is scheduled for 7 p.m. on July 5th. SEO Grove also reported that Eric Engle is actively pursuing the possibility of purchase of additional ground to alleviate his sewage problems. The problem with Larry Wonders sewage has been alleviated by Mr. Wonders having the tank pumped. Eli Dobrinoff Sr. has made application for a permit for repair of his sewage system but there has been nothing further received from him. SEO Grove will be notifying Caroline Blose that the township intends to prosecute her for sewage violation. Ms. Blose had applied for a repair permit but nothing further has been heard from her. Act. 537 planning reimbursement application to DER has been approved and Grove Associates are actively working on this.

Features Postponed

In what has been a season of unfavorable weather conditions for auto racing in Central Pennsylvania, Saturday evening weather conditions offered a little bit of everything and finally led to the postponement of the scheduled feature events. Following a two and one-half hour rain delay the qualifying heat events began.

The Sportsman feature event was started with Bill Howard the race leader. On lap nine, the cars of Paul Troutman and Rich Eichelberger got together entering turn three with both cars getting upside down. Before the event could be restarted a dense fog settled in over the speedway and driver visibility was impaired to the point that they did not believe it was safe to continue.

The completion of the feature event will be made up this Saturday with another complete Sportsman program along with Late Models, Street Stocks and Fireworks. To complete a big racing weekend, Monday July 3 will feature a 40 lap Championship paying $2,000.00 to win plus a Street Stock feature and the postponed Limited Late Model feature from this week.

The fog out was the first that anyone could recall in the thirty-six year history of Silver Spring. The Silver Spring season began in snow, has been postponed by rain on a half dozen different occasions and now has been interrupted by fog. Hopefully, this signals an end to the meteorological morass and the remainder of the 1989 racing season can go off as scheduled.

Dave Kelly Nips Smith

Dave Kelly held off a determined Stevie Smith to win the 25-lap Sprint car feature Friday night at Williams Grove Speedway. Bob Beidleman won the 20-lap Limited Sprint car feature.

Kelly started third in the original lineup but leader Tom Mayberry spun and moved Kelly into the front row on the restart. Kelly beat pole sitter Dave Haight into the first turn and never looked back.

Kelly and his Watkins Leasing/Freedom Valley Express #17 team earned $2500 for their first victory of the season at Williams Grove.

Earl Kelly, the owner of the winning car, was not in attendance Friday. He was hospitalized earlier in the day complaining of chest pains.

Smith started 12th in the Hamilton GMC #77 and took the runnerup spot from Johnny Mackison on the 14th lap. Smith pressured Kelly throughout the closing laps and was able to pull alongside in the turns on several occasions. Smith's finish enabled him to pad his lead in the Busch point race.

Mackison brought the Barshinger Builders/Hughes Axle Repair #65 home a solid third after starting fifth. Kenny Adams moved the Harz Furniture #88 from the tenth starting position to a fourth place finish. Paul Lotier in the Ken Ruch #7 completed the top five after starting ninth.

Bobby Weaver, Greg Lamey, Fred Rahmer, Jeff Shepard and Steve Smith completed the top ten.

Kelly became the tenth different winner in Williams Grove Sprint car competition this season. Only twelve Sprint car features have been run.

Johnny Martin led the first lap in the KARS Limited Sprint car feature before Tim Dietz took over when Martin spun into the fourth turn guard rail. Dietz began to stretch his lead until mechanical problems ended his night with 11 laps down.

Beidleman inherited the lead at that point and was never headed. It was Beidleman's second KARS victory at Williams Grove and his fourth overall this season.
